

Environmental Policy

Westdale Services Ltd specialises in External Wall Insulation (EWI), and offers an extensive range of render finishes and specifications to suit a variety of building applications.

Westdale recognises the effect it's operating and construction processes have on the natural environment and is committed to minimizing any negative environmental impacts caused by its activities. However, the majority of our work also has a positive environmental impact by improving the energy efficiency of the buildings we work on.

As a result, environmental considerations are integrated into the decision making process. The company will implement an effective and certified system by:

- Complying with all current legislation, industry best practice and any contract conditions relating to environmental matters
- Committing to the prevention of pollution, protection of biodiversity and enhancement of the character and quality of the built environment
- Striving for the continual improvement of environmental performance wherever feasible by:
 - Providing our clients (and the ultimate dwellers of the buildings we improve) with excellent quality insulation that future-proofs properties against climate change and increasing energy prices
 - Reducing CO₂ emissions and minimising energy consumption
 - Decreasing the amount of waste produced
 - Promoting the re-use, recycling and recovery of materials to reduce waste. Reducing the movement of goods and people to minimise emissions, congestion and cost
 - Where contracts affect local communities, working with the other Contractors to minimise the disruptive affect of the site
 - Recording and monitoring environmental performance, setting goals, implementing changes and reviewing progress of these changes on a regular basis
 - Training our staff so they understand the policy and system and the impacts we have on the environment
 - Promoting environmental awareness amongst our suppliers, contractors and partners by implementation of operational procedures and awareness raising

This policy is communicated to all those working for and on behalf of the company, and is made available to the public through our website and on request.
